EXPRESS TRAIN DERAILED. ANIMAL RESCUE LEAGUE

Report Shows-Officers Are Re-elected.

The annual meeting of the Washington Animal Rescue League was held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Mer-ton E. Twogood, the secretary, gave her annual report, in which it was her annual report, in which it was shown the society had collected 2,789 cats, 7,197 kittens, 1,286 dogs, 3 pigeons, 42 horses, 4 rabbits, 1 squir-rel, 1 owl and 104 white rats during the past year.

It was explained the society has not gone into the rat catching busi-ness, but these animals were sent in to be humanely chloroformed.

The society has 744 members. Owing to the shortage of funds it was found necessary last September to borrow funds from some of the direc-tors in order to carry on the work. An appeal was sent to members in October which resulted in $1,104 being secured, and a card party benefit net-secured, and a card party benefit netted $704 early this month.

The treasurer's report was given in which plans were outlined to extend the membership. Mrs. Susie Root Rhodes made an address, in which she told of the humanizing influence the work of the league has had on the children in the city playgrounds. She announced the children of the playgrounds are to hold a rummage sale temorrow and Saturday for the sale tomorrow and Saturday for the benefit of the league.

EMERGENCY TARIFF BILL RENDERS FINE SERVICE REPORTED BY SENATORS

Check Dumping of Foreign

The emergency tariff bill, designed for the relief of the farmers and to check dumping of foreign goods, was ordered favorably reported today by the Senate finance committee.

The measure approved by the Senate committee differs radically from that passed by the House, anti-dumping and currency valuation provisions having been sharply revised, although tariff provisions were not changed. A provision to continue government control of dye importations through the Treasury Department was added by the Senate committee.

A new feature of the measure is a provision prohibiting foreign exporters from shipping into American markets in event of their refusal to permit examination of their books by American agents to determine costs and sales prices. Present laws provide only a fine in case of such refusal, but customs officials asked for a stronger weapon as a support to anti-dumping laws.

Chairman Penrose of the committee said he hoped to have the Senate take up the bill Tuesday.

Proposals Declared Too Vague by Papers—Berlin Losing Hope.

LONDON, April 28.—Dissatisfaction was expressed by London newspapers today. There was a unanimous ex- ing the objects to be considered at pression of opinion that the German terms were insufficient and that they must be altered before the allies could renew discussions with the Berlin government.

"The German proposals are too vague and do not go far enough," de-clared the Morning Post." The Post, however, expressed the opinion that Germany might rue her appeal to America, for the reason that it is most probable America's stand-rds of reparations are most different rom those of Berlin." Substantial Change Demanded. In a testy editorial, the Telegraph 'so demanded substantial changes in he German terms.

"Technically," the newspaper said, 'Germany has no right to make offers at all. Her duty is to pay her debts." Germany's reparations proposals were not at first understood in British official circles, declared the late edition of the Daily Mail this morning, and the newspaper asserted that, after they were examined it was seen "they are nothing more than a clumsy rehash of the German offer made here on March 1, and as such are not acceptable."

Germans See Fallure. BERLIN, April 28. - Possibility that

BERLIN, April 28. — Possibility that the German reparations proposals may be rejected was reflected in the press comment on the situation here yesterday, the Vorwaerts saying that, in all probability, the German government would be called upon to further alter its terms, "if it hopes to achieve success with them."

"The government," the newspaper added, "has taken a stony path, and has not yet arrived at its end."

Theodor Wolff, writing in the Tageblatt, approved of the address of Dr. Walter Simons, foreign minister, before the rejchstag, saying the tenor of the minister's speech was "adapted to American acoustics."

"America will render the cause of American acoustics."

"America will render the cause of humanity an immeasurable service if she lends a practicable hand in an endeavor to stave off imminent economic collapse," declared the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, the property of Hugo Stinnes, the German industrial magnate.

Did Not Share Optimism. The industrialist organ, Der Tag, did simons in his address before the reichstag.

"This parable," the newspaper added, "is just as faulty as Dr. Simons' reason-ing in general. The people of Israel were permitted to take along their silver and gold when starting out on their journey, whereas the Germans are obliged to leave theirs behind." BRUSSELS, April 27.—The German counter proposals with regard to reparations were declared in political circles here today to be entirely unaccept-able. It was pointed out the new pro-posals did not differ materially from those submitted by the Germans at the London conference.

CLERICAL BLUNDERING DELAYED GERMAN NOTE

Twelve Hours Lost in Berlin Because Nature of Message Was

y the Associated Press BERLIN, April 27.—Clerical blun-dering in the main telegraph office in Berlin caused a delay of twelve hours in transmission of the German counter proposals on reparations to Washington. The American mission here filed the last section of the note at 10 o'clock Sunday night and the cause of the delay was only located when acknowledgment of its re-ceipt came from Washington Tuesday morning, indicating that the note had been an unduly long time in

The night shift at the telegraph office apparently failed to recognize the diplomatic nature of the message and treated it as a routine dis-patch. The English rendering of the original note supplied to the American mission by the foreign office not only reveals an imperfect trans-lation, but contains faulty reproduc-tion of the German terms.

ASKS $25,000 DAMAGES.

Mr. Levering Alleges Conspiracy in Water Power Plans.

Suit to recover $25,000 damages or alleged conspiracy to prevent the acceptance of his plans for the utiliacceptance of his plans for the utili-zation of the water power of the Potomac river above Great Falls has been filed in the District Supreme Court by J. H. Levering, a hydraulic engineer. He names as defendants N. C. Grover, chief hydraulic en-gineer, and John C. Hoyt, C. C. Stevens and R. W. Davenport, en-gineers of the geological survey. E

Stevens and R. W. Davenport, engineers of the geological survey; E. C. Bobb and Charles A. Bissell, engineers of the reclamation service; W. M. Read, chief irrigation engineer of the Indian service, and Herman Stabler, chief engineer of the geological survey.

Through Attorney Matthew E. O'Brien the plaintiff says he was employed by the Federal Power Commission to make the plans, and in a joint report to the Secretary of the Interior the defendants condemned his plans as not only radical, but impractical and destructive of the scenic beauty of the falls. He declares his work was worth $25,000, scenic beauty of the falls. He de-clares his work was worth $25,000, and, as he says he lost payment by reason of the alleged action of the defendants, he claims damages to that extent.

The Virgin Island Inquiry. To the Editor of The Star:

The Virgin Island Inquiry.

To the Editor of The Star:

It was with much interest that I read the account of the neglect by the United States of the Virgin Islands since their purchase from the Danish government, and what is now on foot for their betterment, in your issue of Tuesday, April 19, 1921. While the story is an interesting one, with my knowledge of the facts as to how the deplorable condition was brought to the attention of Congress, if I were to keep silent after reading that part of the story as related in the article I would be guilty of allowing a piece of history to stand as correct when, in fact, it is not. The first time the plea for favorable consideration for the new purchase of the islands was made was when three of the commissioners who went to Denmark on the return trip came to Washington and were taken by me to the room of Senator Stone, in the Capitol. The delegation consisted of Dr. Christiansen, Lawyer Jorgensen and Mr. James Chesterfield Roberts. A most cordial reception was given us by the senator. The next step was when one Rotschold Francis, a delegate sent here from the United Laboring Association of the Island of St. Thomas, arrived in Washington, and requested me to put him in touch with those who were in position to do something for the people of the islands, and the making better of things in general. On August 16, 1919, we called at the office of Senator Kenyon of Iowa and had a brief talk with him about the matter. He told us that he was going to try to get together the insular committee, The committee met that day at 2:30. After listening to the delegate and receiving from him a document containing several points setting forth the conditions in the islands, the committee decided that it was necessary that a commission should be sent as soon as practicable.

ANGLO-JAPANESE PACT DISCUSSED BY CANADA

Sentiment Expressed Favoring Terminating Alliance, to Promote Best Relations.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 28.-Advisability of terminating the Angle-Japanese alliance in order to promote the best relations between the British empire and the United States, and also possibly between Japan and the United States, was voiced in the house of commons by N. W. Rowell, with the German reparations proposals former president of the privy council. Mr. Rowell, who was discussthe conference of prime ministers of the British empire in London next June, one of which is the Angio-Japanese treaty, expressed his conviction that a difference between the United States and Japan, if such should unfortunately occur, would not involve Great Britain. not involve Great Britain.

The complete sitting of the house was devoted to a discussion of the coming conference. Members of the coming conference. Members of the three groups in the chamber participated.

Arthur Meighen, prime minister, insisted that the conference had no executive powers and that no action could be taken without reference to the Canadian parliament.

Sir Robert Borden, former prime minister, expressed the opinion that Great Britain would hesitate to engage in any war if strong public opinion was manifested in Canada and Australia against her doing so.
